

Dear clients, colleagues and friends of iControls,

Today, we are pleased to share some exciting news! iControls Technologies Inc. was acquired by Advantage Controls on September 1, 2023. The iControls team is profoundly grateful for your support over the past 18 years. We look forward to an exciting future with expanded resources and great new products. The combined companies create an organization focused on innovative product development backed by unrivaled customer service with over 45 years of history in water purification and water treatment markets.

Through the acquisition, iControls gains access to new resources including additional back-office support and a full team of customer service and technical support personnel. It also expands the iControls product line to include additional controller choices and a full line of ancillary equipment including chemical metering pumps, flowmeters and filtration.
